

SPECIAL ISSUE:

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND SOCIAL CHANGE

CALL FOR PAPERS

Journal of Science and Innovative Technologies is seeking research manuscripts for a special issue highlighting effective economic development and social change designed to foster economic growth in the world countries. Its mission is to promote research supporting the formulation of evidence-based economic development and social environment presents challenges as well as opportunities for developing countries and emerging markets. There is a need to come up with insights that reflect the role of economic development policy in order to reinforce policy thinking and assist in the management of the policy craft of social changes competitiveness in broad relation to development.

Submission Procedure

We welcome submissions and encourage authors interested in submitting to the Special Issue to discuss their submissions in advance with the Special Issue Editors (journalosst@gmail.com). Papers submitted will be subject to the normal process of 'blind' review. Only original material will be considered for 'blind' review. The Special Issue will not accept book manuscripts or manuscripts on teaching materials or teaching methods.

For questions regarding this special issue call for papers, please contact the Guest Editor: Dr. Muddassar Sarfraz (muddassar.sarfraz@gmail.com)

For more information about the journal, please visit the journal's homepage : www.ejsr.org , or contact the editorial office: journalofsit@gmail.com

Special Issue Editors

Dr. Muddassar Sarfraz
Hohai University, China

Dr. Muhammad Ibrahim
Abdullah
COMSATS University
Islamabad, Pakistan

SPECIAL SESSIONS

This Special Issue of Journal of Science and Innovative Technologies aims to collect a set of high-quality papers, theoretical, empirical as well as policy oriented, which deal with the policies, practices, and outcome of economic development strategies of the countries. These papers should also critically scrutinize economic development strategies and social changes in the fields.

The list of topics below is suggestive for the Special Issue, which welcomes submissions from scholars across a number of disciplines related to economic development and social change. The Special Issue will be methodologically pluralistic and have an exceptional concern for research that attends to important developmental issues that transcend academic discipline and management function boundaries. The scope of the Special Issue includes:

- Pedagogy for Economic Development and social changes
- Sustainable Development for Asian countries and Beyond
- Trade capacity building, actions related to globalization
- Research methodologies for, and measurement challenges of, economic development and its impact on social change.
- Sustainable business model innovation for regional development;
- The effects of infrastructure, education and productivity in economic development and social change.
- Industry-University Partnerships;
- Case studies of economic development and social change.
- Policy management of economic development and risk.
- The Role of Emerging Technologies in Shaping Entrepreneurship;
- Knowledge and Technology Transformation
- Social innovation and sustainable development;
- Forms of restructuring
- Other relevant topics

IMPORTANT DATES

Submission Start Date
(10 November 2008)

Submission Due Date
(10 February 2019)

Blind Review Period
(February –April 2019)

Revision by Authors
(May-July 2019)

Publication Date
(September, 2019)

Submitted papers should not have been previously published nor be currently under consideration for publication elsewhere.

All papers are refereed through a peer review process. A guide for authors and other relevant information for submitting papers are available in the Submission at www.ejsr.org.

Manuscripts in MS Word format should be sent by e-mail to: journalofsit@gmail.com

